

ISH Young Breeders Programme Child Safeguarding Statement

Section 1 – Organiser information

Teagasc – the Agriculture and Food Development Authority – is the national body providing integrated research, advisory and training services to the agriculture and food industry and rural communities.

Horse Sport Ireland – is the National Governing Body for Equestrian Sport in Ireland.

The ISH Young Breeders Programme is provided as a joint programme between Horse Sport Ireland and Teagasc.

Teagasc and Horse Sport Ireland are committed to safeguarding children and by working under the guidance of Safeguarding Policies of both organisations. Principles and procedures are in place to be observed to ensure, as far as possible, that a child availing of training or participating in competition within the ISH Young Breeders Programme is safe from harm. We seek to create a safe environment for young people to grow and develop within the programme.

A 'child' means a person under 18 years excluding a person who is or has been married, as set out in section 2 of the Child Care Act 1991. 'Harm' is used as defined in the Children First Act 2015. That definition sets out that 'harm' means, in this context: - "(a) assault, ill-treatment or neglect of the child in a manner that seriously affects or is likely to seriously affect the child's health, development or welfare, or (b) sexual abuse of the child, whether caused by a single act, omission or circumstance or a series or combination of acts, omissions or circumstances, or otherwise".

Section 2 – Principles to safeguard children from harm

The following set of principles should be adhered to by staff, coaches, and all adults engaging with children in the context of the young breeders programme:

- Importance of childhood – the importance of childhood should be understood and valued by all adults involved
- Needs of the child – all children's experiences within the programme should be guided by what is best for children. This means that adults should have a basic understanding of the emotional, physical and personal needs of young people.
- Integrity in relationships – adults interacting with children are in a position of influence. They should always ensure children are treated with integrity and respect, and the self-esteem of young people is enhanced.
- Fair Play – all children's sport/competition should be conducted in an atmosphere of fair play. The principles of fair play should always be emphasised, and organisers should give clear guidelines regarding acceptable standards of behaviour.
- Quality atmosphere and ethos – children's sport should be conducted in a safe, positive and encouraging atmosphere.

- Competition – competition is an essential element of sport and should be encouraged in an age appropriate manner.
- Equality – all children should be valued and treated in an equitable and fair manner regardless of ability, age, gender, religion, social and ethnic background or political persuasion.
